All Penn State youth programs have policies in place to ensure that the safety of youth participating in our programs is not compromised.. All Homework Hotline staff are trained in protocols to protect youth as well as in all relevant internal, external, and parental reporting requirements. In addition, an adult supervisor will be present during operating hours. Parents are encouraged to notify Dr. Marietta Scanlon, Homework Hotline Program Directror, at mrs35@psu.edu or 610-396-6126 immediately if they, or their child, have any concerns with the program and/or staff. You may also contact Sandy Weaver, Youth Programs Compliance Specialist, at 814-865-8785.

Penn State is committed to affirmative action, equal opportunity and the diversity of its workforce. U.Ed.

What Is… Homework Hotline?

Introduction

Penn State Berks is partnering with 2 other Penn State campuses—Schuylkill and New Kensington to pilot a Homework Hotline

- Penn State's long-term goal is to support middle and high school students across PA as they build strong math and science skills.

- We will provide free, quality, friendly assistance that students can access from anywhere.

What to expect when you call:

Tutors will jump right in to assist students with their math homework, answering the phone like this:

About our tutors:

Penn State Berks Tutors

- All Homework Hotline tutors are college students at Penn State Berks

- Tutors have strong technical math backgrounds, excellent communication skills, and a desire to help others.

- All Homework Hotline tutors have the appropriate clearances needed to work with children.

Aha Moments!

Penn State Homework Hotline tutors will not do homework for the student callers, but they will clarify where the callers are getting stuck and guide them to arrive at the answers themselves. Tutors will work to hear that "Aha!" moment!
